How do we relate to one another, ourselves and the wider world?

Come to the Fellowship of Reconciliation's Called to be Peacemakers conference, a residential weekend event for 18 to 30 (ish) year olds who are interested, active and/or engaged in peace and conflict issues. With expert speakers and skills training, the event provides an opportunity to join a community of like-minded individuals from across the UK.

This year the conference asks: How do we relate to one another, ourselves and the wider world around us? Relationships shape who we are and what we believe. In this busy world we rarely examine our relationships; how they develop and change; our relationship with ourselves, others and the peace movement.

The conference is being held at the Hollowford Centre, Derbyshire and is subsidised to allow as many people to attend as possible. A limited number of travel bursaries and subsidised places are available. Conference places are £40 if booked before 1 October 2008 (£50 after).
